JustBeenPaid: Email I Send To My JSS Matrix Members

Posted by admin on February 2nd, 2012

Some members who have read my previous post, JustBeenPaid: Strategies To Quickly Cycle Your JSS Matrix \(http://wealthbuilderbiz.com/justbeenpaid-strategies-to-quickly-cycle-your-jss-matrix\) have asked me for a sample of the email I sent to my JSS matrix downline, requesting them to purchase or upgrade placements.

The key elements to include in the email are purpose of the placements (as some members might not be familiar how placements work), your downline's JSS Matrix system number and the placements' system numbers.

Take the following image as an example.

The person in SPOT-2 is Jan-Henk Steutel. Jan matrix's system number is 1163864, and his LEVEL-1 spots are SPOT-5 and SPOT-6 with placement system numbers are 1163881 and 1163882.

Note: This matrix has cycled already!

I requested Jan to purchase the placements and I will upgrade them to PREMIUM afterwards. Shown below is the contents of my email to Jan .

SUBJECT: Your JSS Matrix – System Number – 1163864

Hello Jan,

How are you? I hope all is well with you.

We are in one or more of the same JSS matrices.

Our team has been doing very well getting our matrices to cycle quickly.

We are filling our matrices in a little over a week.

The way we do it is by sharing the expenses for placement(s). One person buys the $5 standard placement(s), and the other upgrades the placement(s) to PREMIUM for $5.

If you are not familiar with placement(s), kindly refer to this guide that I created.

HOW TO QUICKLY CYCLE YOUR JSS MATRICES

Thank You. Success is a choice.

If they don't purchase/upgrade the placements, or don't reply to your emails, try re-sending the email after a few days. One probable reason is that they have no funds on their JSS accounts. This happened to me many times.
